

A “KRISP” COPY FOR KREME-Y DOUGHNUTS

ORIGINAL

Doughnuts are bad for you.

So are cream cakes, lie-ins and loud rock music.

So is sugar. If you take it in your tea, stop immediately. If you take two sugars in your tea, obviously you're trying to commit suicide and it's a cry for help. Don't do it.

Your life is precious.

Not drinking enough water is bad for you. You must drink 6½ pints a day, or you'll get dehydrated and that's bad for you too. Don't drink too much though, that can be really bad for you. If you drink over 14 pints at once it makes you feel drunk. So don't drink too much water and drive.

TV is bad for you. Watching too much can cost you your friends. None at all and you've got nothing to talk to them about. Lack of exercise is bad for you. But getting addicted to gyms is bad for you too. Also, some gym towels aren't laundered properly and spread germs.

Germs are bad for you.

Stress is bad for you. Well, at least too much stress is bad for you. Not enough and you don't realise you're alive which is bad for you too.

The thing is, life and the living that is involved is bad for you.

It must be, because it kills everyone in the end.

At Krispy Kreme, we think the key to life, by which we mean eating doughnuts, is balance. Sure, if you eat them morning, noon, and night and they are brought directly to your armchair, then that would be bad. But then if you've never felt the pleasure of eating a delicious fluffy original glazed doughnut hot off the line and, heaven forbid, you get struck by lightning, well surely that would be really bad. Really really bad.

Hey You! Don't Buy Doughnuts,

If you are gonna take a fearful bite contemplating if you should eat the rest. Don't buy them if you are not up for devouring it to your heart's content thinking it will mess up your diet. And if you can't devour this creamy, delightful treat with big chunky bites, you are gonna miss out big time.

Don't buy doughnuts if you are not prepared to experience your tastebuds dancing in joy. Don't buy them if you are not ready to feel your heart doing summersaults in happiness. Because a freshly made doughnut will make you feel just that. Its soft, fluffy texture and rich creamy taste are no joke!

Doughnuts can make you happy, extremely so. Every bite can fill your mind and soul with pure bliss. Doughnuts are not just mere treats. They are Dopamine in a round shape. Well, now let's come to the part you are thinking all the while!

Yes, it contains sugar, but so does your breakfast cereal, and your protein bars. If you check the ingredients of your favorite fruit juice, that may also surprise you with the amount of sugar it contains. It's not that you have to cut down on sugar completely, that's unhealthy too! The truth is, you need sugar and you need to find the balance to make it healthy.

At Krispy Kreme, we believe in that balance. Sure, doughnuts can take you to the world of pure happiness, take a bite and you will forget all the worries and frustrations. But make sure you don't get lost in there. Nothing is good when they become addictions, be it alcohol or the suspense thriller series you are currently binge-watching. Just find the balance to adjust a doughnut or two to your diet plan. So, go to your nearest Krispy Kreme outlet, get your favorite flavor hot off the line, and devour it with all your might. Just eat and don't leave any crumbs!
